

Another Lifelong learning program is - Certificate in Manufacturing Technology

This program is specially designed by University Malaysia Sarawak to meet the needs of ASTEEL Sdn Bhd technician skills in mechanical and manufacturing process with a view to increase knowledge and productivity in ASTEEL.

Synopsis of the Program

- The programme is designed to produce candidates equipped with the strong background and skills required to build their career in operation, production, management and service relevant to mechanical and manufacturing engineering.
- The participants will be introduced to manufacturing processes and giving them the overview of engineering in industrial manufacturing processes.

Aim and objectives

- To produce trained workforce with basic understanding in manufacturing processes
- To equip trained workforce with basic operational skills and safety awareness to help engineers in everyday tasks.

Programme Outcome

- Discuss the fundamental and types of the manufacturing processes.
- Demonstrate safety in every aspect of manufacturing processes
- Demonstrate basic operational skills in everyday tasks.

Medium of Instruction

- English/ Malay Language

Entry Requirements

- SPM
- At least 3 years working experience in the related field for candidates without SPM